Why you are the most suitable person for the research that you have proposed?

- ▶ Need to convince EPSRC that it is low-risk high-return to invest in YOU.
- ▶ Your track record demonstrates the 'risk' (your Case for Support will sketch the picture of the 'return').
 - Esteem
 - The quality of publications
 - Who cited your work
 - Your proposal is built upon your active research
 - Your research management experience (PhD supervision, small grants, etc.)

I spent two years preparing it:

- ▶ Good conference/journal papers that underpin the proposal idea
- ▶ Industrial partner's letter of support
- ▶ Friendly reviews from friends/colleagues (there will be contradicting comments ...)
- ▶ Friendly non-expert reviews from research support officers (they have seen many good/bad proposals)
